

Differing Views about Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion

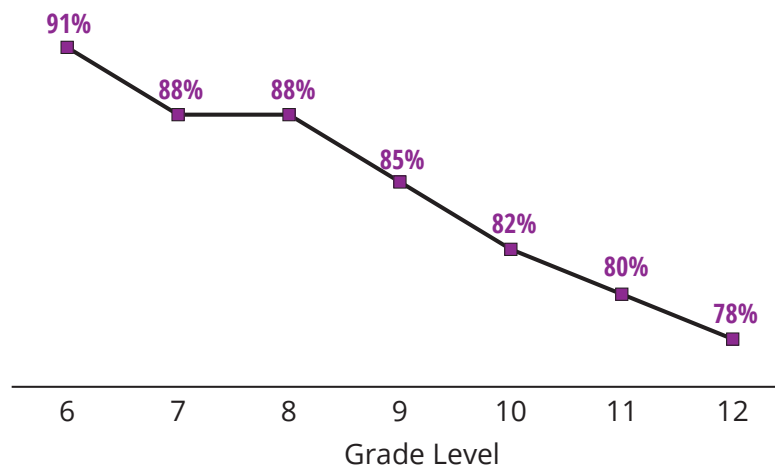

A recent Panorama Education survey of 12,000 students assessed their perceptions about diversity, equity, and inclusion.

Four of five students say all people are treated fairly.

How fairly do adults at your school treat people from different races, ethnicities, or cultures?

But perceptions of diversity and inclusion decline significantly for older students.

And perceptions vary by race and ethnicity.

