

Businesses Value SEL Skills

Social and emotional skills have the highest rating as “very important,” according to a LinkedIn survey of 5,000 hiring professionals in 35 countries on 2019 global talent trends. Hiring managers defined what the survey referred to as “soft skills” to include: creativity, persuasion, collaboration, adaptability, and time management.

But few companies have set up processes for identifying these skills.

Only 41%
have a formal process
to assess soft skills

57%
struggle to assess soft skills accurately

casel.org

Source: 2019 Global Talent Trends, LinkedIn Talent Solutions.
<https://business.linkedin.com/talent-solutions/blog/trends-and-research/2019/global-recruiting-trends-2019>