MS Matters at Home: Digital Etiquette

Does your child have good in-person digital etiquette rules? Here are some tips from Screenwise author Devorah Heitner:

1. Put your phone away when you are in a group where another child does not have a phone. That child often feels ignored or left out when everyone around them is playing on their phone.
2. Give a heads up: If you need to check your phone when you are with someone, saying something like "I'm sorry- I just need to check my phone for a second."
3. Keep devices off and away for meals. Keeping phones off during meals allows for much richer conversation with their friends.
