

September 25, 2019
Good Shepherd Trinity Church

WORSHIP

Drawing on Matthew 25, we worshipped together. Rev. Lydia Neshangwe, an International Peacemaker from Zimbabwe, preached and officiated at the Lord's Table with Rev. Susan Sytsma Bratt, the new pastor at Crossroads, who was introduced in our business meeting. Dazzling Angels praised God through their liturgical dances.

FOOD & FELLOWSHIP

Gathering over a meal is always a wonderful way to catch up with friends and colleagues. In addition to a fun potato bar, Good Shepherd Trinity offered a sampling of desserts and spring rolls from two small business in Phoenix Rising, a wonderful new business venture in Sherman Park.

DR. BETTINA LOVE

We welcomed educator Dr. Bettina Love, who challenged us to see the inequities in our education system for children of color and to use our resources and privilege to effect change. Almost 100 people joined our Gathering simply to hear her presentation.

BUSINESS RECAP

The Presbytery had a busy night, approving a renewal of the partnership with Dangme-Tongu Presbytery in Ghana, an increase of 1.2% to minimum terms of call, the dissolution of the Calvary Administrative Commission, and the sale of Grace Milwaukee's manse. It also had a first read on changes to the Manual of Operation to realign commission responsibilities to be more responsive to needs in the Presbytery, changes to the Foundation's bylaws to streamline its investment work, and the 2020 budget.

