Challenges, Choices, & Change:
A COMMUNITY in ~~CONFFLICT~~ Conversation

Inspired by the Museum's newest exhibit, Challenges, Choices, and Change: A Community in Conflict, this four-part program will provide opportunities for community conversation, highlighting the historic and modern significance of four questions featured in the exhibit—asking always, “Who has the power?”

Who Has the Power to Choose Their Work?

Who Has the Power to Get an Equal Education?

Who Has the Power to be Heard?

Who Has the Power to Define Morality?

Program Schedule

Who Has the Power to Choose Their Work?

Tuesday, January 28 at 6:45 p.m. at the
McLean County Museum of History Governor Fifer Courtroom
In an age of underemployment and ever-increasing wage disparity, join representatives of LIUNA Local 362, Illinois Partners for Human Service, Dreams Are Possible, and more for this discussion.

Who Has the Power to Get an Equal Education?

Thursday, February 27 at 4:00 p.m. at Heartland Community College,
Community Commons Building (CCB) 1406
1500 W. Raab Rd., Normal

Heartland Community College, along with representatives of Bloomington-Normal NAACP, 100 Black Men, Black Lives Matter, and more will lead the discussion about the lasting barriers and lack of equitable access to educational opportunities for minority populations.

Who Has the Power to be Heard?

Saturday, March 21 at 12:00 p.m. at the YWCA,
1201 N. Hershey Rd., Bloomington

Women's participation in politics (whether at the polls or in office) is at an all-time high. Join members of the YWCA, League of Women Voters, and more for this discussion.

Who Has the Power to Define Morality?

Tuesday, April 28 at 6:45 p.m. at the
McLean County Museum of History Governor Fifer Courtroom
Join representatives of the Prairie Pride Coalition, YWCA Stepping Stones, and more to explore the role and meaning of community as sexual expression within our society continues to evolve.

Each program will provide a brief introduction to local stories featured in the exhibit, then expand into facilitated small group discussions exploring the modern relevance of the chosen theme.
