NOTE: This is a different type of show. It is not a booth show or a table top show. You will have your own meeting room with groups of distributors who rotate from room to room on a given, set schedule to ensure each exhibitor has a similar number of attendees in each session. You will give eleven, 25-minute presentations to these rotating groups of distributors. There will be a post-show attendee list emailed out to all exhibitors within a few days of the show. This list will provide the mailing address for each attendee, and their email address and phone number if they opted during registration to allow us to share that information.
