

Finding Your Best Fit Colleges

Join The Princeton Review for an informative presentation for students and families of Bridgewater-Raritan High School!

There is a dream college for every student, but with thousands of schools across the country, how do you know which one to choose?

Join The Princeton Review's Editor in Chief, Rob Franek, for a lively discussion for students and families on how to find your best fit colleges. We'll discuss building a college list and what admission officers really care about the most.
