3. If You Find a Fake page/account/website

1. Report to the platform (Facebook, Instagram, etc.) escalate if needed.
2. Report the fake site to Canadian Anti-Fraud Center (CAFC)
3. Contact the domain registrar (via WHOIS info) and file an abuse complaint.
4. Hiring a digital forensics company – such as ATOS out of Montreal – they seem to be a large company that specializes in this type of actions:
<https://atos.net/en/services/cybersecurity/threat-detection-investigation-and-response> or utilize a platform called Upwork (<https://www.upwork.com/>). This is a platform where you can hire freelancers to do work on your behalf. If you go to the field of work is called “account recovery services” for more information.
5. Inform/warn your clients via all your legitimate channels.

5. Recommended Low-Cost Options for Small Operators

- Use free tools: Google Alerts, Google Reverse Image, CIRA WHOIS
  - Consider free-tier services like Mention or basic Hootsuite
  - Use CIRA Canadian Shield for extra DNS protection (free): cira.ca/canadian-shield

6. Preventive Measures are also strongly recommended

Secure Brand Assets

- Register domains (website addresses) similar to your main site (common typos, alternative TLDs), even if you don't want or plan to have a website.
- Claim your brand (name/identity) on all major social media platforms, even if you don't plan to use them.

Consistent Branding

- Keep logos, profile photos, and "About" text consistent across channels — this helps customers distinguish real from fake.

Public Awareness

- Post warnings on your legitimate channels when a scam is detected.
  - Encourage your clients, friends, anybody to report fake sites/pages.

Stay vigilant and protect your brand!
