January Theme: Ancestral Wisdom, New Thought

Week 1: Divine Mind and Maple Sugar (Personal Inner)

January 4th thru January 10th, 2026

Science of Mind teaches that the entire Universe conspires for our good. Indigenous wisdom supports and deepens this idea beyond humanity and honoring the interconnectedness and kinship of all of Creation.

This week, we'll explore a couple of different creation stories and the Potawatomi story of the Maple Sugar Moon discovering the relationship of weather, botany, squirrel wisdom and human effort in creating the magic of maple sugar.

A DEEPER LOOK

Science of Mind: A Philosophy, A Faith, A Way of Life introduces God as One Mind, of which we are all a part as an individualization, or unique expression, of Mind.

Explore your understanding by journaling your response to the following prompts:

★ I understand One Mind to be...

★ Being an individualization of Mind means...

★ When I contemplate the phrase "We are all part of Mind", I understand "We" to be...

How is the Universe conspiring for the highest good of all right now?
