

faces&places

Sports talk with Meer Apartments residents Ron Rasansky, Aaron Greenspon and Jay Barry

Meer Apartments residents Allan Grundy and David Horowitz conduct a woodworking demonstration.

Meer Apartments residents Susan Weiner, Nancie Etzen and Shirley Moscow are at registration for Meer Day activities.

Meer Apartments resident Sheba Zietchick does crafting.

Meaningful Meer Day

PHOTOS BY JEWISH SENIOR LIFE

Meer Apartments Life Enrichment Coordinator Jennifer Galazka created a special event in November called Meer Day to showcase the unique talents and wealth of knowledge the residents at the vibrant independent living community possess.

Throughout the day, 12 diverse programs and seminars led by Meer residents informed, entertained and inspired everyone in the building. Participants got moving in a fitness class; enjoyed recitations of Shakespeare, poetry and stories; learned about recycling, plants, insects, Yiddish and opera; took part in makeup, crafting and woodworking projects and demonstrations; and attended spirited talks about sports and health.

The building was buzzing as residents took part in a wide range of opportunities to learn and expand their horizons. ☀

Meer Apartment resident Evelyn Grant admires her makeup done by Marlene Cassidy.

Meer Apartments residents Diane Gussin, June Rubenstein and Sharyn Mann enjoy crafting.