CLI sponsors are ready resources to help clients with the myriad of tasks and issues they may be facing in their personal transitions. And not only are these known professionals ready with experienced help, their commitment to sponsorship in CLI helps defer the costs of doing CLI business, including administrative costs, covering overhead, and funding special projects. Without CLI sponsors, the cost to each individual member would be much higher. So when you have an opportunity to chat with a CLI Sponsor, please take the time to thank them for their sponsorship and consider connecting with them for business!
