

Meet Dylan Findling

Dylan is an almost 10 year old little boy who was diagnosed with a rare, progressive brain disorder on May 29th of 2020. Dylan went from being a normal kid who loved to draw, play soccer and basketball, and tell lots of stories to now a child who is unable to walk, talk, hold up his head, and now eats via a Gtube.

Dylan was diagnosed with ALD-Adrenoleukodystrophy. It is very rare, and incurable according to modern medicine. We had been told Dylan had ADHD and sensory processing disorder. That was incorrect. ALD attacks the myelin sheath in Dylan's brain. Dylan's decline was very quick. From diagnosis to decline was as fast as him still walking and talking at July 4th and getting a surgery for Gtube in early September.

Dylan's family refused to accept the initial medical advice they were given, which was to go home and enjoy our time. We were told we had 2-10 years with Dylan. We reached out to an ALD specialist in Minnesota and he has been directing Dylan's care. We started an experimental therapy and, by the grace of God and modern medicine, Dylan's disease has stopped progressing. It has not progressed since diagnosis.

Our hope is to get a stem cell transplant which will re-energize his immune system and ultimately stop the disease for good. And then we hope for science to figure out how to restore the myelin sheath, which is the part of the brain that is being attacked by Dylan's ALD.

We have never stopped believing that God is planning to use this trial as a testimony and that He has big plans for Dylan. We continue to pray for supernatural healing for Dylan.

Dylan even has a Facebook page where you can follow our story called "Little Dylan, BIG Miracles".

Dylan is turning 10 on February 26th. We are inviting our family, friends, neighbors, his classmates, and our church family to participate in a covid friendly drive by wave parade to help Dylan celebrate this milestone of making it to double digits! And to celebrate our recent MRI results that show that his disease has been arrested!!!

Please join us for a Birthday Wave Parade

For: Dylan Findling

On: February 26th
