

Announcement from Pfizer on COVID Vaccines – dated 7/21/2025

Pfizer is working towards availability of 2025-2026 formula COVID-19 vaccines from BioNTech and Pfizer. The 2025-2026 formula COVID-19 vaccines will be updated to a monovalent JN.1 lineage COVID-19 targeted to the FDA-preferred LP.8.1 strain.

Pfizer will continue shipping currently available presentations of 2024-2025 formula COVID-19 vaccines from BioNTech and Pfizer to ensure product availability through the summer months, when COVID-19 infection rates have historically spiked.

Anticipated Pfizer Shipping End Dates for 2024-2025 Formula COVID-19 Vaccines:

Pfizer plans to stop shipping 2024-2025 formula product on August 8th, 2025. The stop shipment date is intended to support customers with inventory management and demand planning regarding both the current formula and preparation for the 2025-2026 formula to be available upon FDA approval at launch.

As a reminder, August 8th, 2025, is Pfizer’s stop shipment date for Direct and Wholesaler orders that are placed with Pfizer. Wholesalers will likely have 2024-2025 formula COVID-19 vaccines in-stock beyond Pfizer’s anticipated stop shipping date. Please work with your wholesaler or distributor regarding product availability.

The stop shipment date is subject to change should any material information arise that would warrant a change. If that were to occur, communications will be shared with you and your customers accordingly.

Please note the product expiry as eligible individuals can continue to receive a vaccine up until the earlier of product expiry date or change to regulatory status of product.
