

Have Card...Will Travel!

Adapted from Bankrate.com

Remember as a teen when you had to let Mom and Dad know you were leaving the house, where you were going and when you'd be back? Now, your debit and credit card companies should get that call.

Most credit card and debit card issuers use security software and other means to fight fraud. If you normally buy shoes at Cherry Vale Mall and suddenly you're buying beverages beachside in California, there's a chance your card could be declined or suspended.

If you're going to be outside your normal stomping ground, make sure you let your card issuer know. Even if you're just going to a different state, it never hurts.

That goes for credit and debit cards.

Call Blackhawk Bank's Client Services at 866.771.8924 to let us know you'll be traveling.

Bonus travel tip: While you have us on the phone, ask about your daily spending or daily ATM withdrawal limit. It's something you want to know before you leave home.
