Dear Friends & Family,

July/August 2017

I just returned from Brazil, my fourth trip of the year. We had the opportunity to house our team with my friends Paul and Ashley Perry, long time missionaries in Brazil. Their 35 acre ministry base, Living Stones Ranch, is a retreat center designed for pastors, missionaries and churches, a serene environment to rest, spend time with family, host leadership conferences and get away from the business of the city. This beautiful facility was a perfect place to base our outreaches in to the city of Bello Horizonte. This trip was special because I was able to bring my oldest son Max and his close friend Garrett. They are both leaving for college this month and our time together was a great way to send them off! They were a valuable asset to the team and helped in every service with worship, product sales and pictures. As in every event, God did amazing things, proclaiming His power and confirming His Word. We had held meetings in local churches and open air events in poor communities around the city. During the days we enjoyed the ranch participating in a number of rock climbing and rappelling courses, one of which required us to rappel down a 200 foot water fall. When we reached the bottom, night had fallen and we had to navigate the dense Atlantic Jungle using only the light of our cell phones.

Living Stones Ranch in Bello Horizonte was our base of operations for this trip. Owned by my friends Paul and Ashley Perry, two of the hardest working missionaries I know, this amazing facility is an incredible leadership training and retreat center.

Teens wept and cried out to God as they approached the altar.

My long time friend and translator Pastor David Suassuna and I worked hard at each altar call, praying and ministering to the hurting.

Since most of our events are scheduled in the evening, we usually take the days to do school events and or leadership training. We invited 30 key youth leaders from different churches in the city and ministered to them for 3 days at the ranch. In each of these meetings the Spirit of God would confirm His word with participants experiencing a powerful encounter with Jesus, empowering them to “fight the good fight of faith” regardless of the obstacles they were facing. We are very thankful to Joyce Meyer who makes her incredible books available to young and old alike who attend our meetings. Each event on this trip was very encouraging and fruitful. We have held over 450 meetings in the past 7 yrs and I can honestly say that each one has been as powerful as the first. God so desires to impart His amazing grace to a generation and we are honored to play a small part in this great harvest!

This woman was dealing with unforgiveness and depression. Her faith moved heaven to begin a work of healing in her heart and emotions.

This young man came forward for salvation. His tears and sincerity was a joy to behold..

This altar worker came forward in response to a word of knowledge. She was set free as she responded to Jesus in faith.

Five young people came forward after one of our outdoor services to commit their lives to Jesus!

We caught this “Gamba” or Brazilian Possum sitting in a banana tree outside of our house. He was not happy.

I'm always amazed at the need people have to be valued and embraced, especially as they come forward for prayer.

The presence of God was overwhelming as the hurting came forward for prayer.

At each and every event tears flowed freely as the Spirit of God brought life and hope to the desperate.

This young man came forward to rededicate his heart to Jesus. His embrace and tears were overwhelming. I could not help but smile at Gods amazing grace.

As always our python Galak made an appearance. His strength and size are the perfect example of how small things can get big in our lives.

Max took this picture of me as we were praying on the roof of the conference center. I thought it was a very cool shot.

My son Max came with me on this trip. We were able to surprise him and celebrate his 19th birthday after a leadership event. It was priceless moment.

A big thanks to Joyce Meyer for making her books available to the leaders we ministered to!

The Word of God always did what it was meant to do, convict the hearts of a generation. Their response was exciting.

Caprini and Max doing what they do best in every service. I was thrilled to see this every night.

The local church services we held were amazing times of refreshing and repentance.

The Spirit of God was always willing to confront and encourage during every time of prayer.

We recently dubbed 5 more TV shows into Portuguese and they are currently airing all over the nation. The response has been surprising. I received a Whats-App notification from a truck driver who saw the program in the Northeast part of the country.

I will be leaving at the end of the month for another trip to Brazil. We will be ministering in two new states, Alagois, Pernambuco and of course we will be back in our favorite state, Bahia. These are all new churches and as usual they have requested that I bring "Galak" to the meetings.

God has opened many doors of opportunity for us around the nation with many different denominations. As always I will walk through any door God sees fit to open for me.

Thanks for your continued support - we could not do any of this without you! Chad Daniel
