Dec. 20, 1932: William Gillette's houseboat "Aunt Polly," which had been the actor's chief residence from 1901 until 1919, is destroyed by fire at its steamboat landing at the foot of the "Seventh Sister" hill along the Connecticut River. Firefighters from the East Haddam Volunteer Fire Company battle the flames in vain. The blaze's cause remains undetermined. The wreck became the focus of archeological studies in 2003.
