

This week's answers:

1. c) Religious brothers, sisters, or priests surrender to God and to live as Jesus did – poor, chaste, and obedient. Someone who lives in this way has head, heart, and hands free for God and neighbor. (CCC 914-933, 944-945)
2. b) The two sacraments of vocation are Holy Orders (clergy) and Matrimony.
3. a) The Bishop calls down God's power upon the candidate for ordination. It imprints upon the souls of these men an indelible seal that can never be lost. (CCC 1562-1568)
4. False Religious brothers are not ordained, but have taken vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience (the “evangelical counsels”). Similarly, women, who take these same vows are called religious sisters or nuns. Religious brothers and sisters lead a life “consecrated” to God and His Church in a special way.
5. a) Every Christian has the duty to bear witness to the Gospel by his own life. But God walks a special path with each person. Some he sends as laymen, so that they might build up the kingdom of God by their family and occupation in the midst of the world. For this purpose, he bestows on them in Baptism and Confirmation all the necessary gifts of the Holy Spirit. (CCC 871-876, 934, 935)
