

Juvenile Justice 101

WHEN: February 26, 2019 at 1:00 P.M.

WHERE: Capitol Visitor Center, SVC 200/201

First Street, NE, Washington, D.C. 20515

DESCRIPTION: Join the Act 4 JJ Coalition for a briefing to discuss the latest on federal juvenile justice reform, including what is next in the wake of the reauthorization of the Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention Act (JJDPA). Hear from advocates and community stakeholders on the history of juvenile justice reform, what the reauthorization of the JJDPA means for young people, and priorities for the new Congress.

Congressman Tony Cardenas (D-CA) one of the Hill's biggest champions for young people, has been invited to give brief remarks.

The Act 4 JJ Coalition would also like to thank Senator Sheldon Whitehouse (D-RI), one of the lead cosponsors of the Juvenile Justice Reform Act of 2018, for serving as an honorary co-host of briefing.

PANELISTS:

Anahi Figueroa, Juveniles for Justice, Juvenile Law Center

Jessica Feierman, Senior Managing Director, Juvenile Law Center

Shamelen Henderson, D.C. Department of Youth Rehabilitative Services Youth Council

Marcy Mistrett, Chief Executive Officer, Campaign for Youth Justice (Moderator)

Naomi Smoot, Executive Director, Coalition for Juvenile Justice
