

United Partnerships Inc Seeks Funding for B2B and B2C Direct-To-Market Platform

After 7 years of focusing on helping small independent distilleries bring their products to national and international markets, United Partnerships Inc (UP), the parent company of ForWhiskeyLovers.com and ForTequilaLovers.com is seeking financing to leverage their experience in the Spirits category and expand the value and services they offer distillers, industry professionals and consumers, as well as apply it the broader food & beverage distribution system, so better food and beverages can be brought to more people.

Think: Etsy for Artisan Craft Food and Beverages.

UP is looking to raise an initial round of financing ($1.1M) via Venture Capital and a private placement, with a minimum investment of $50,000. This is a ground floor opportunity to invest in a company that intends to completely disrupt the current paradigm of "How Craft Food and Beverages Come to Market"...could be like getting in on eBay, Google or Uber at the start.
