

APPRENTICESHIP

Thrilling news from the Livermore Training Facility—twelve dynamic Project Management students from diverse construction trades, embarked on an intensive five-day, forty-hour training journey! The students in the class were Blake Burres, Alexandro Garcia Ochoa, Erik Henke, Thomas Lozano Jr., Juan Nunez, Mark Puris, Pancho Ramos, Abraham Saavedra, Christina Santana, Hunter Von Aesch, Carlos Zaragoza Jr. and Angel Zaragoza.

Guided by ABC NorCal's expert instructor William Marini, the apprentices delved into five pivotal NCCER Project Management Modules, exploring everything from Introduction to Project Management, Safety, Interpersonal Skills, Issues & Resolutions and Construction Documents. Several of these modules included immersive Performance Profiles, fostering interactive learning and collaboration among peers and the instructor.

As a testament to their dedication, all twelve students emerged triumphant, equipped not only with newfound knowledge, but also specialized skills in the setup and precise use of essential tools, such as the Builders Level, Transit Level and Theodolite. With their passion and proficiency, these individuals stand poised to lead the charge as the construction industry's next generation of LEADERS!

A shout out goes to the year 1 Painting Apprentices (Painting 1.1 Emeralds), who attended their in-person class at our Livermore facility in April. The apprentices learned about careers in the painting trade, safety, ladders, scaffolds, lifts, fall protection and identifying surface/substrate materials and conditions.

A big "Thank You" goes to Eagle Wings Company, Inc. for providing the Scaffold Training and SCM Safety for providing the Respiratory Fit Testing.
