

APPRENTICESHIP

As our apprentices gear up for summer, the energy and enthusiasm in the lab are a testament to their dedication and the bright futures that lie ahead in the construction industry.

Our apprenticeship program had several in-person classes recently for our new apprentices. The Core 1 (Terminals) students spent the final day of their class building wooden toolboxes. The Year 1 Electrical students (E 1.1 C Wires) dove into the electrical trade and spent some time bending 1&1/4" conduit by hand. Check out their pictures below:

The Painting 2nd year apprentices (Painting 2.3 Blues) recently honed their skills by learning valuable painting techniques. In the picture below, apprentices Rami Al Barouki, Wilfredo Banuelos, Carlos Barajas, Billy Her, Juan Nunez and Adam Segovia are hard at work sanding the clear coat and stain off of two nightstands.

During our annual Apprentice Graduation Event, we celebrate an apprentice of the year for each trade by highlighting outstanding individuals with exceptional knowledge, drive, skill and work ethic. In 2024, Painting Apprentice Adam Segovia was awarded Apprentice of the Year for the painting trade. Sponsored by his training company, Tarlton & Son, Inc., Adam exemplifies teamwork, passion and a commitment to learning. Always eager to share his projects and volunteer, Adam is a reliable and hard-working asset to his company.

Though Adam could not attend the ceremony, Danielle Dutra, Chief of Team Culture with Tarlton & Son, Inc., presented Adam's award during a surprise visit to our Livermore facility on May 17th (pictured alongside ABC NorCal instructor Zach Philbrick). Danielle's visit included a tour and demonstration of the apprentices' spray refinishing and staining furniture in our new pop-ups' spray booth.

We deeply appreciate the dedication of our apprentices and member companies in upholding the merit shop values.
