Brown Construction, Inc. becomes 100% employee-owned!

After 60 years as a family business, West Sacramento-based Brown Construction Incorporated has announced it has become 100% employee owned. Brown Construction is ranked by the Sacramento Business Journal as Yolo County's 18th largest employer with 130 employees and among the largest locally-owned general contractors in the greater Sacramento area.

With the help of Burlingame-based The Menke Group, Brown Construction has extended ownership to their employees by way of an Employee Stock Ownership Plan, commonly known as an ESOP.

Brown Construction has built notable projects in the Sacramento area including The Barn and 805 Riverfront apartments in The Bridge District in West Sacramento, Gio apartments on Stockton Boulevard at Highway 50, and The AJ apartments, the first project built in The Railyards.

Biden's Proposed Apprenticeship Rule Will Strongly Discourage Construction Apprenticeship Program Participation

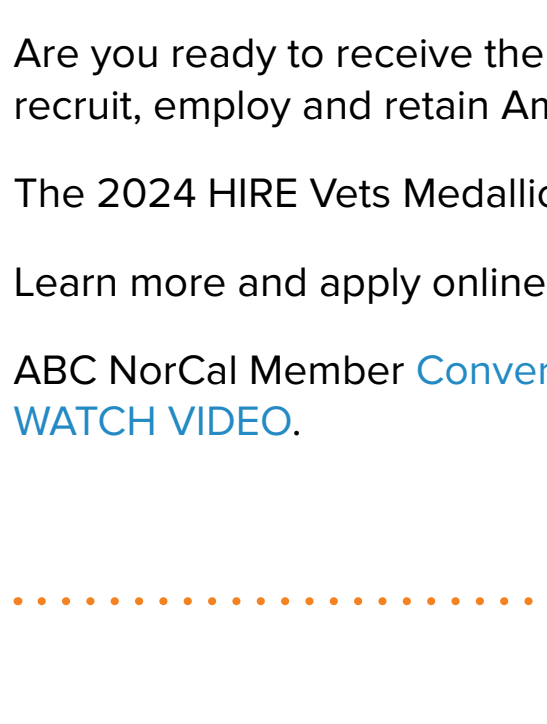

According to the results of a new survey of ABC contractor members and chapters published today, the U.S. Department of Labor's controversial, 180,000-plus word proposed rule overhauling regulations related to government-registered apprenticeship programs—or GRAPs—will discourage apprentices, contractors and ABC chapter apprenticeship program providers from participating in the government-registered apprenticeship system.

Construction input prices increased 1.0% in January compared to the previous month, according to an ABC analysis of the U.S. Bureau of Labor Statistics' Producer Price Index data. "Construction materials prices surged in January, ending a streak of three consecutive monthly declines," said ABC Chief Economist Anirban Basu.
