Are you looking for more ways to show your commitment to the protection of our communities and our planet? The Poor People's Campaign is dedicating next week to our Right to Health and A Healthy Planet. Clergy, congregants, and community groups will come together again to take action starting on Monday, June 4th. [INSERT YOUR CONGREGATION/GROUP NAME HERE] is encouraging all of our members to pray with our feet and put our values into action for the local PPC action at [INSERT LOCAL ACTION INFO HERE].

Our [INSERT SOCIAL JUSTICE MINISTRY/TEAM NAME or CONGREGATION] is asking for your commitment to take part in this action if you are able. [NAMES OF CONGREGANT(S)] will be [passing out commitment cards; sending around a sign-up sheet; waiting for you in the back to sign you up; making phone calls to you] so that you can pledge your attendance and be a part of this movement! We'll be [emailing/texting/calling] you with reminders, so please write legibly when you sign up.

If you cannot participate in this week's PPC action, please be sure to share info about this important week on your social media platforms, both before and during the action.

If you have more questions, please see [INDIVIDUAL/SOCIAL JUSTICE TEAM LEADERS NAMES] for more information and to pledge to attend. Many thanks, and see you there!

"Right to Health and A Healthy Planet" Direct Action
Monday June 4th @ [INSERT TIME & LOCATION]

Are you looking for more ways to show your commitment to the protection of our communities and our planet? Join clergy, congregants, and community groups for the Right to Health and A Healthy Planet as a part of the 40 Days of Moral Resistance led by the Poor People's Campaign.

Climate change is not only an extreme weather issue - it is also driven by profit-hungry companies that see land and natural resources as their sole dominion. The PPC reminds us that our allegiance lies not with profit but with our people. It must be a part of our spiritual work to be stewards of our land and take care of all living beings who reside in it. So join us!

Please contact [INSERT SOCIAL JUSTICE MINISTRY LEAD CONTACT INFO HERE] for more information. Many thanks, and see you there!

We must make it clear that we are concerned about the survival of the world. — The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., December 1967

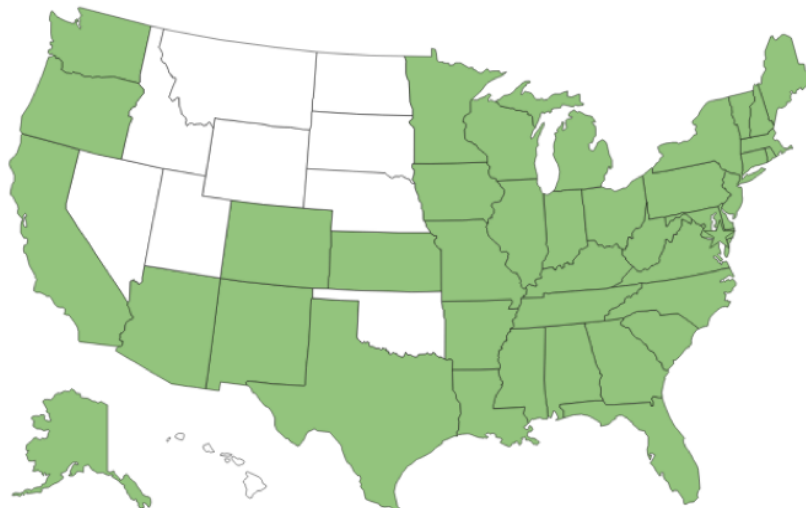

Dear XX,

For years, GreenFaith has connected the dots between poverty, racism and environmental degradation.

That's why we are glad to join with the Peoples Climate Movement to support The Poor People's Campaign: A National Call for Moral Revival, which is uniting tens of thousands of people across the country to challenge the evils of ecological devastation and environmental injustice this week. We encourage our friends and supporters to please join together across the U.S. as we mobilize our local communities on Monday, June 4, 2018.

Please connect with the Poor People's Campaign \(PPC\) chair in your state if you are interested in planning and/or participating a local action on Monday, June 4th.

Poor People's Campaign: A National Call for Moral Revival

Please click here to contact one of your PPC state chairs and learn more.

We have a moral obligation to support those among us who are disproportionately affected by air pollution, environmental waste, and the harmful effects of climate change.

Polluting facilities such as fossil-fuel burning power plants, municipal waste incinerators, fossil fuel extraction sites (coal mines, natural gas fracking wells, etc.), and landfills, are disproportionately located in communities of color and low-income communities. State and national policies have prioritized private, corporate, and financial interests over the health of our children, our communities, and our shared planet. This is wrong.

It is our core belief that all people have a right to clean water and air, a healthy environment, and public resources to regulate the polluting impacts of fossil fuel industries. Based on that belief, we are proud to stand with the Poor People's Campaign and to call for:

- 100% clean, renewable energy and public jobs programs to transition to a green economy that will put millions of people in sustainable, living-wage jobs.
- Public water and sanitation infrastructure that keeps these utilities and services under public control and that prioritize poor, rural and Native communities that have been harmed by polluting and extractive industries.
- A ban on fracking, mountaintop removal coal mining, coal ash ponds, offshore drilling, all new pipelines, refineries, and coal, oil, and gas export terminals.
- The protection of public lands and the immediate cessation of opening up public lands for polluting and extractive industries.
