Same Jane, New Role!

Following over 28 years of service to Henderson Settlement in Administration, Mission Advancement and varied communications functions, Jane Grubbs has taken a new role in Community Outreach, and simply loves it!

Jane's long tenure of service as a Settlement employee has resulted in building lots of relationships, however the new Community Outreach role is providing Jane more opportunities to interact with community members and to build relationships with them. For Jane, this is the best part of the new job, meeting with folks from the community and helping to meet some of their needs. Jane describes these situations as frequently "Desperate people in desperate situations." As the names turn into faces, then families and finally relationships, the drive to help becomes even more urgent.

Jane's flexibility and willingness to take the risk of a new role has been a true blessing as we are reshaping Community Outreach in the wake of Frankie Blackburn's retirement.

Thanks, Jane.
