Writing Our Story - A Letter from the Class of 2023's Phoebe Gleeson

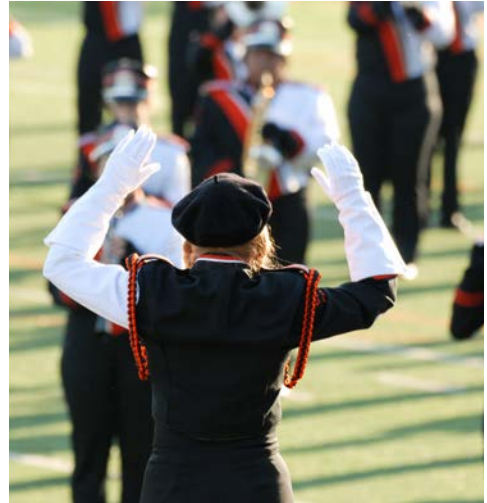

Phoebe is a current senior at Chagrin Falls High School. She plays the clarinet and is currently serving as one of the Field Commanders of the Marching Band.

Since beginning band at Chagrin Falls in the 5th grade, I have been completely enamored with music. I was in the orchestra prior and decided to switch to band to be like my older brother. However, I didn't realize how much of an impact it would have on my school years.

I have played the clarinet for the last seven years. Starting off was definitely rocky, not for me, but for my parents who had to hear me practice. I like to think I have improved significantly since fifth grade as last year I was a member of the wind ensemble. Being a part of many different musical groups at school really helped to develop an appreciation for other instruments and art forms, and also to let music be an outlet for me.

While I've enjoyed nearly all of my time in the band program at the Chagrin Falls Schools, high school band has been my favorite. The community that you meet during band at CFHS is unlike any other, and has shown my family and I a lot of love in difficult times. There are also so many opportunities to play different types of music in marching band, concert band, and smaller ensembles that you can really make being in the band whatever you would like it to be.

This year, as a senior, I am field commander of the marching band and I feel like it's been a full circle moment for my band career. I would encourage any young student to try it and stick with it because there are so many incredible memories and opportunities that come from being a part of the band.
