This course is geared towards anyone involved in the investigation of violent crimes against children. The first day covers child sexual abuse, topics include: child molester typologies, victimology, profiling your offender & interviewing tactics. The second day takes a look at physical abuse with a focus on child homicide investigation, specifically equivocal child deaths. Many child abusers attempt to use routine household accidents as cover for their abuse, students will learn how to distinguish between intentional & accidentally caused injuries. Specific topics include: Abusive head trauma, Burn injuries, Sudden Unexplained Infant Deaths & crime scene reconstruction.

Students will learn advanced investigative techniques for handling these horrific crimes and be better able to determine the truth to hold offenders accountable. Case studies will be utilized to show how the techniques apply in real world investigations. A training manual for later reference is included.
