Social Responsibility Award

The Group Foundation for Advancing Mental Health Social Responsibility Award, inaugurated in 2010, is presented annually at the AGPA Annual Meeting to an AGPA Member or group of Members who has performed an exceptional service that ultimately benefits the public-at-large, nationally or internationally. This could include, for example, training professionals who have provided group interventions or direct services to a community in need, or those who have provided extensive pro bono work.

Anyone can submit a nominee or an applicant can be self-nominated. The application must include the nominee(s) name, address, curriculum vita (of all individuals being nominated, if more than one) and a detailed reason for the award nomination. Additional letters of recommendation are encouraged to accompany the award nomination. Submissions are due to the Group Foundation office by October 1st of each year.
