

Spring Fingerprint Tree Craft

This thumbprint craft is great for little hands to practice those fine motor skills while creating a beautiful Spring tree!

What you need:

- White paper
- Brown construction paper
- Pencil
- Scissors
- Masking tape or glue
- Paint – green, blue, and pink
- Brown watercolour paint
- Paintbrush

What to do:

1. Trace the little one's hands and forearms on brown construction paper and cut it out. This will be the tree trunk. Tape/glue it down to the white paper.
2. Prepare the paint for the children to use by placing it onto a plate or something they can press their thumb into.
3. Make the green thumbprints for grass. Be sure to make thumbprints close together along the edge of the template.
4. Make pink thumbprints for the cherry blossoms all around the hand area of the tree.
5. Use blue thumbprints to make the sky. Make the prints all around the rest of the paper and the edges of the middle of the tree.
6. Let the paint dry completely.
7. Optional: Once the paint dries, you can remove the tree template and use the brown watercolour paint to paint in the tree template.
