CHUMASH LEARNING STATIONS HELP REINFORCE SKILLS

On Wednesdays, the students of Rabbi Sharbat's Chumash class break up into smaller groups and rotate from station to station. The students are challenged in each station to work on various Chumash skills and to reinforce prior knowledge. There is a "CVL" (Chumash Vocabulary League) station, where the students have a chance to review their Chumash vocabulary words either by using the quizlet game on the Chromebooks or using flashcards. There is also a Rashi station, where students reinforce reading Rashi script and answering questions on the Rashi. In addition, there is the "Chulent Skills" worksheets on gematria (numerical value to letters), rashei tevot (Hebrew abbreviations), famous phrases and other important and critical information. Lastly, there is the "Preview/Review" station, where students either review pesukim (verses) and mefarshim (commentary) or preview new pesukim and mefarshim with guided questions. Overall, the students enjoy working independently and enjoy the challenging tasks!
