KINDERGARTEN BEGINS STUDY OF HEBREW VOWELS

Gan has concluded their study of the Aleph Bet. To get ready for first grade we have begun learning the nikudot (vowels) that are used to blend the letters to make words. We have learned about the twins, kamatz and patach, who both say, 'Ah.' Patach the boy wasn't shy but his sister, kamatz, was. She always kept her finger by her mouth when she said, Ahhhh. We will be continuing the Vowel Family story to learn segol, tsayreh, and cheerik as we finish up the school year as well as reviewing the Aleph Bet.
