INSPIRATIONAL TEEN SPEAKS TO RKYHS STUDENTS

RKYHS students heard from 18 year-old Austin Halls at the latest SEED session. A 12th-grader from New Jersey, Halls has Moebius Syndrome. For him, living with Moebius Syndrome has been life-changing and a blessing. Austin says that Moebius Syndrome makes him different and stand out, but has also made him stronger and wiser, and makes him who he is, which in his own words is “really outgoing and confident” and “so, so mainstream.” Halls inspired our students with his message to think positively, feel confident and believe in yourself no what matter the situation. Hearing this message delivered from a peer made an even stronger impact and resonated with our students.
