MODEL UN DELEGATION DISCUSSES WORLD CHALLENGES AND ISSUES

The RKYHS Model UN team is attending the Yeshiva University conference in Stamford, Connecticut. Ten of our students representing France and Iraq are working on the global issues of our time including the civil war in Yemen, North Korean nuclear weapons threats, and climate change. The students are truly enjoying the competitive environment and the ability to meet fellow yeshiva students from all over the US and other parts of the world, as they debate and address issues related to the country they are representing.

Congratulations to Aaron Dickstein on his Honorable Mention Award at the UN Conference!
