STUDENTS HEAR INSPIRATIONAL WORDS ON ALIYAH

On Wednesday and Thursday two shlichim from the program Sabras by Choice came to engage our students with their experiences in making aliyah. Nirel Kakon, 20, was raised in Chicago and is currently a student in mechanical engineering at the Technion in Haifa and is preparing to become an engineer for the Israeli army. Rachel Naparstek, 27, was raised in upstate New York, served in the IDF after doing a bachelors degree in Middle East Studies at McGill University and American University in Cairo. By speaking to students around the country Nirel and Rachel aim to spark a deeper connection to Israel for students through their lectures.
