Charting the LifeCourse:

An Overview of the Framework and Tools
Wednesday & Thursday
March 24 & 25, 2021
9:00 am to 10:30 am

The Charting the LifeCourse (CtLC) framework was created to help individuals and families of all abilities and all ages develop a vision for a good life, think about what they need to know and do, identify how to find or develop supports, and discover what it takes to live the lives they want to live. At this presentation we will:

- Present an overview of the principles of CtLC
- Provide an introduction to tools to empower and support people and thier families
- Identify how to use the tools to perform your job functions

Charting the LifeCourse™ and LifeCourseTools.com is a project of the University of Missouri–Kansas City Institute for Human Development, Missouri's University Center for Excellence in Developmental Disabilities Education, Research and Services (UCEDD).

Presented by Barbara Sapharas:

- Ohio Ambassador-Charting the LifeCourse
- National Team Member, Charting the LifeCourse-University of Missouri-Kansas City (UMKC)
