

Assignment of Benefits (AOB) - is where a consumer happens to sign over their rights to a particular home repair contractor when an insurance claim is filed. Once an agreement is signed, it transfers any insurance claims/benefits to a third party who now has authority to file a claim, make repair decisions and collect insurance payments without the consumer's involvement.