What's a committee and what's a ministry team?

Pine Street Church operates with both committees and ministry teams.

Most committees have some level of governance function and are oriented toward church operations.

Ministry teams are designed to embody the mission of the church and to fulfill essential ministry priorities. They exist to support short-term ministry events and special seasons of the church year while engaging members' gifts and passions. Ministry teams are action-oriented, service-oriented, and offer a flexible length of commitment.

Members and non-members can be part of multiple ministry teams at any time. Ministry teams may be formed at the suggestion of interested members or staff.

Description of PSC Committees

Finance and Stewardship Committee

Prepares budget, reviews financial reports and guards the financial well-being of the church. With the pastor, organizes stewardship and any fundraising campaigns. Determines any use of Memorial Gifts to the church and makes appropriate acknowledgment.

Properties Committee

Work with staff to manage the property, provide maintenance, oversee any upgrades and renovations; Deal with insurance claims. The former Design Committee would be part of the Properties Committee.

Pre-school/SoFA Oversight Committee

Oversees the business model of the preschool, making sure the preschool is financially viable; oversees preschool's compliance to legal requirements for preschools and its employees; serves in an advisory capacity to the Preschool Director.

Pastoral Relations Committee

Functions to provide a supportive environment for the Pastor to allow the pastor to do his/her best work. The PRC works to provide a regular channel of communication for cultivating an open, affirmative and creative relationship between the pastor and congregation.

Nominating Committee

Works collaboratively with pastor to find the appropriate people to fill Leadership Council offices and other leadership roles, including Committee chairpersons and members and Ministry Team Leaders. Committee Chairpersons and Ministry Team Leaders may invite new participants to their groups.
