

Allen Ranjan Bio:

Allen has spent years absorbing any and all information he can in all aspects of revenue cycle management. We have coined him “The Encyclopedia”. Allen is not only a whiz at the operation and relational portion of our business, as our Senior Vice President he has also mastered business development and analytics to become the full package. Allen has been with Cosentus since our company was founded, and is truly devoted to what he does and the clients and employees that he serves.

With his wife Pragya, Allen has a beautiful little girl named Aaradhya who is seven that likes to peek in on her dad and provide him smiles while he works, and he somehow always has time for a chat, a smile, and a joke.
