

September 27, 2017

Dear GRCC members- denominations and Christian groups,

The Sisters of Saint Joseph want to share with you the numerous resources we have available for you personally, your church leaders, laity, and committees and groups involved with your work.

We invite you to a "come and see" breakfast at our Motherhouse on Thursday, November 9, 2017 at 8 a.m. We are located at 150 French Road (directions: from East Avenue, turn right on French Road before Pittsford. From Monroe Avenue, turn left on French Road right after Pittsford Plaza).

Our Motherhouse has private space for personal quiet, reading, and writing and space for groups to meet and retreat. We can host 70 people (fewer with tables) and our beautiful chapel holds approximately 150. Meals, a library of theological and spiritual resources, and grounds for walking are available.

We have various programs for spirituality and spiritual development and sisters available in a variety of locations for spiritual direction. We will also share our program called Fresh Wind in our Sails which provides a variety of programs, our monthly Prayer for Our Times, and welcome you to present a program.

Our time together on Thursday will include a tour, more on the above information, and how you can join us.

For your attendance and/or for others in your faith community, please email grcc1@frontiernert.net or me at srbeth@ssjrochester.org (If it is easier, you can leave a message on my cell 585-721-4918).

We look forward to your interest in and suggestions for the utilization of our welcoming space.

Sincerely,

Sr. Beth LeValley, Liaison for GRCC and Sisters of Saint Joseph
