

OCTOBER 2017 LEADING THROUGH QUESTIONS

Equipping and Empowering Your Congregation

Leading through questions builds a sense of ownership, equips and empowers and results in an upsurge in energy and activity. This approach enables people to be more self-aware, more self-generating and to grow in leadership skills. A coaching approach helps prevent conflict by bringing to the surface issues that often underlay the presenting issue.

In this program participants will learn:

- practical skills for equipping and empowering others
- how to frame good questions in sensitive circumstances to ensure persons take ownership of their situations
- how to offer expertise without being an “expert”
- how to apply coaching skills in a variety of settings
- receive a copy of the book “Ministry 3.0: How Today’s Church Leaders are Using Coaching to Transform Ministry”
- .25 CEU credits courtesy of EMU and Certificate of Attendance are available.

Bring Your Team! Congregation / Organization leaders are strongly encouraged to attend with their leadership team or others from their organization.

Program Location: The Spiritual Center at St. Thomas Episcopal Church
301 St. Thomas Road, Lancaster 17601

Program Cost: $20 for Partner Church/Organization ($25 Non-partner Church/Organization).

Register Today: Online Registration or via email—dmiron@scclanc.org

Cohort to Follow

Following this seminar, sign up for a six month cohort and gain experience in developing your coaching skills. Led by Sherill Hostetter, CCC Consultant & Certified Coach.

The Rev. Jennifer Williams serves as executive pastor of CrossPoint Church, a United Methodist Community. She received her coaching training through Coaching4Clergy. She has integrated a coaching approach into all aspects of her ministry.

About herself she says, “I could never be confused for Pollyanna; I know there are dark places in the world because I have been there. I also know that God is real because He pulled me out of that darkness and gave me a whole new world and attitude.”

MARK YOUR CALENDAR

October 18, 2017
8:30 to 11AM—light
breakfast at 8:00AM
OR

October 19, 2017
6:00 to 8:30PM—light
dinner at 5:30PM