

PREY - In the wild, the diet of the canine or feline was simple, consisting primarily of the prey they hunted. Though hunting that prey was quite a challenge, finding a simple yet complete food for your dog or feline shouldn't be. That's why Taste of the Wild created PREY limited ingredient diets - a simplified approach to pet food based on the animal's native diet. PREY includes only non-rendered fresh meat ingredients. The meats in PREY are cooked once in their own state-of-the-art facilities to retain as much nutritional integrity as possible. No meat by-products are used. Real animal protein is the first ingredient in each formula using only pasture-raised Angus beef, cage-free turkey or spring-fed trout. Every ingredient in PREY is included for a reason with a promise to be transparent and clear about what goes into PREY products and your pet's bowl.

DIAMOND NATURALS - Diamond Naturals® and Diamond Naturals® Grain-Free formulas are made with the highest quality products and manufactured in America in state-of-the-art facilities. With carefully determined levels of protein, fat and other essential nutrients, Diamond pet foods are formulated to enhance the performance, appearance and overall health of your pet, day after day.

DIAMOND NATURALS

DIAMOND NATURALS GRAIN FREE - Although dogs are able to digest grains, their bodies don't break them down as efficiently as they do proteins and fats. A diet free of grains and made with limited protein sources is an excellent option for all dogs, but especially for those with food sensitivities. All Diamond Naturals® Grain-Free formulas are made with superior animal protein sources and zero grains to optimize digestion and limit exposure to allergy triggers. The nutritional levels of Diamond Naturals Grain-Free formulas were specifically developed to meet all stages of your dog's life, from puppy to senior. At Diamond, they only make products that they are proud to feed their own pets. Nothing is more important to Diamond Pet Foods than the safety of their products. Diamond adheres to stringent and scientifically advanced food safety protocols and constantly monitor and test our raw materials, production environment, processes and finished products. By continuously improving performance with the latest advancements in science and technology, Diamond has developed a comprehensive food safety system.

Doggie Dental Care Products

Did you know 70% of all dogs will develop some form of periodontal disease in their lifetime? The cause is plaque build up on the teeth. It can create gum disease, cavities, and loss of teeth. More serious problems can occur when the plaque becomes absorbed in the blood and travels to the heart potentially plugging arteries. Check out Arnie's Pet Foods doggie dental products. Ask our canine consultants why caring for your dogs teeth is an important part of your canine companions over health and well being.

PETS NEED DENTAL CARE, TOO!

Arnie's recommends regular brushing, dental chews, and check-ups a part of your pet's health care routine
