Our haunted trail began as a Halloween party, then a room in the building was made into a “haunted house.” After a couple of years we moved the haunted house to our prayer path through the woods. The next year we decided to offer our Scout Troop the use, and they began inviting area cub packs. We now offer it to the community asking for donations to the Food Bank as admissions. Two years ago it had grown to over 100 area children coming through on Saturday night and, and about 200 Cub Scouts and friends on the following Tuesday evening - truly a mission to the community. Our trail is geared to elementary through middle school children with the “spooks” adjusting the fright levels by age group.

Many parents have expressed their joy at finding something age-appropriate and affordable.
