

We're here to help Missouri business owners

At the heart of our communities are locally owned and operated businesses. And we wanted to do our part in supporting them. So, we envisioned a way to help businesses throughout Missouri who are struggling because of the coronavirus pandemic.

Here's how we're helping:

- Suspending disconnections and late fees into May
- Committing $500,000 in matching gifts to help those impacted by the coronavirus pandemic
- Offering a $200 one-time credit to qualifying locally owned and operated businesses

If you need help, we encourage you to apply for the $200 credit at SpireEnergy.com/Relief.

Because through it all, we're still your business partner. And we remain committed to safely providing the energy our communities depend on—even when times are challenging.

When our communities are down,
we can lift them up—together

When you sign up for DollarHelp, we'll match your gift up to $500,000 through May 31, 2020, to help homes and small businesses impacted by the coronavirus pandemic.

Serving the foodservice industry

Natural gas fuels so many businesses throughout the foodservice industry—an industry that has been heavily impacted by the coronavirus pandemic.

We know the value this industry adds to the communities we serve, so to help those in the foodservice industry we're promoting awareness of local businesses and focusing on charitable initiatives that feed the people in our communities.
