

Community Organizing for Transformative Ministry

Learn practices for building faith communities that are agents of the Spirit's liberating work within the faith community and in the broader world.

Where: This is an online event

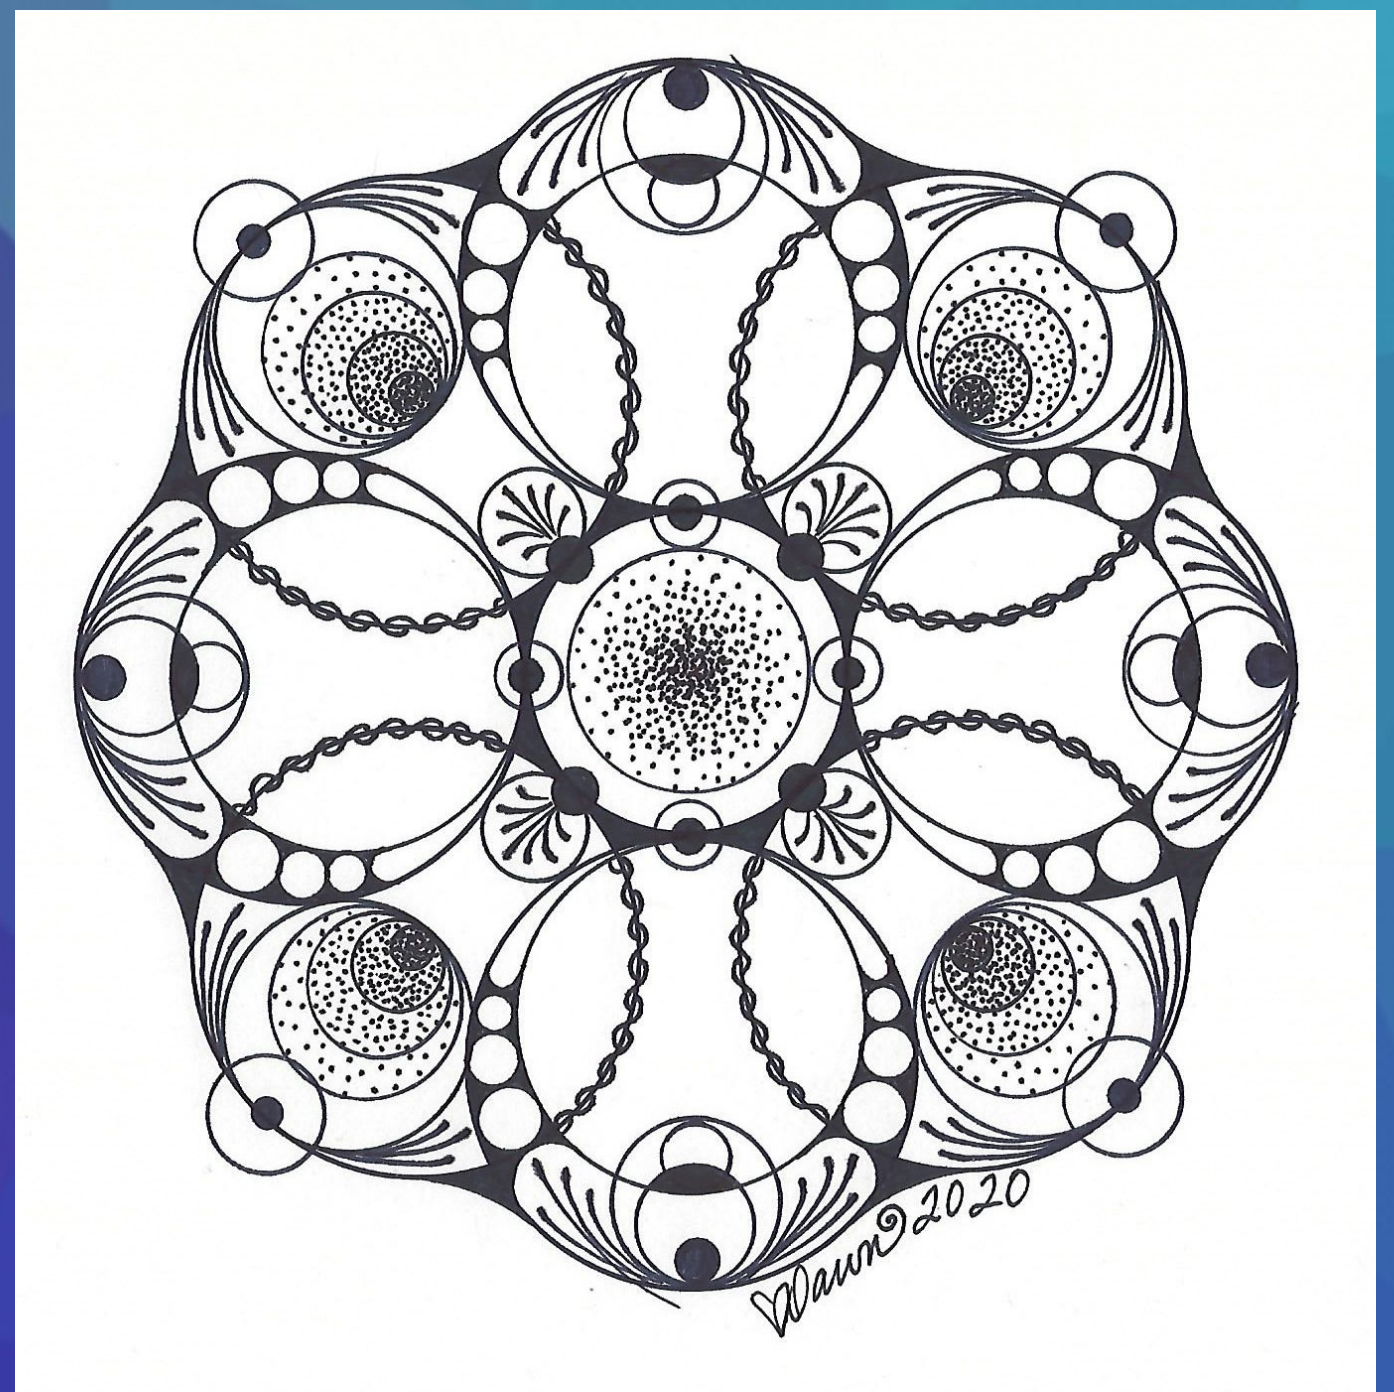

What: This five-day formation event equips people to use arts of community organizing to revitalize and reimagine communities of faith as agents of the Spirit's liberating work in our lives and in the world. This class is designed to engage leaders in the work of spiritual and social transformation through practices that cultivate the Beloved Community.

When: 9am Tuesday, January 19 2021 - 2pm Saturday, January 23 2021

Objective: This class will cover the basic tools and practices of spiritually grounded community organizing from a biblical and theological perspective. The course will deal with practical skill-building in how to engage the public mission of the church to work for peace and justice in the world.

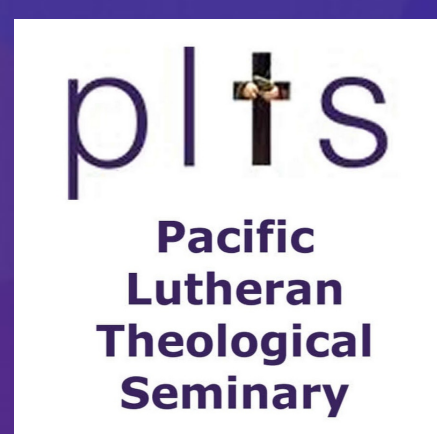

Led by

- Dr. Cynthia Moe-Lobeda, Dr. Ray Pickett (Pacific Lutheran Theological Seminary)
- Sister Kelly Marciales (Organizing for Mission Network)
- Mary Lim-Lampe (Genesis, an affiliate of the Gamaliel Network)

Cost: $300 includes tuition for the five day course.
