Craig Standen bio

Craig Standen serves as Senior Healthcare Investment Consultant on the nonprofit and advisory teams in Vanguard Institutional Investor Group. In this role, Craig is responsible for delivering Vanguard's integrated investment management solution to healthcare and nonprofit clients. Craig joined Vanguard in September 2019, has over 24 years of experience as a financial services professional delivering customized investment management, balance sheet and financing solutions to healthcare and nonprofit institutional clients.

Prior to joining Vanguard in 2019, he spent six years at SEI Investments as Director of Health Care Advice. Craig was an investment banker at Ziegler Investment Banking for over 16 years where he provided healthcare clients with debt capital markets access and strategic transaction advisory services. Earlier in his career, Craig was a corporate and healthcare finance associate at NatCity Capital Markets (now part of PNC Bank), a pharmaceutical sales representative for Schering-Plough Corporation (now part of Merck & Co.), and served on active duty in the US Navy for almost five years as a surface warfare officer and eight years in the US Naval Reserves in various billets.

Craig is a member of the CFA Institute, the CFA Society of Philadelphia and the Healthcare Financial Management Association. He earned a BA in economics from Cornell University and an MBA in finance from the Weatherhead School of Management at Case Western Reserve University.