Dear Parents,

This week in our toddler classroom, we dove into the magical world of the Transitional Song, "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star." Through this enchanting song, your child engaged in various activities to promote learning, creativity, and fun.

🌟 Our Activities 🌟

1. Singing Time: We sang "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star" together, helping children develop their language and listening skills. Singing also aids in memory and rhythm recognition.
2. Starry Art Projects: This activity enhances fine motor skills and encourages artistic expression.
3. Story Time: We read books related to stars and nighttime, fostering a love for reading and expanding vocabulary: Star, Wonder, World, Twinkle, Diamond, and Night
4. Sensory Play: A special sensory bag filled with star-shaped items, yellow paint, and shaving cream, allowed children to explore textures and practice sorting.
5. Movement Activity: We danced and moved to the rhythm of the song, promoting physical development and coordination.

🌟 How You Can Participate 🌟

🌟 Sing Together: Encourage your child to sing "Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star" at home. It's a wonderful way to bond and reinforce what they're learning.

🌟 Read Books: Share bedtime stories about stars or the night sky to complement our classroom readings.

🌟 Star Walk: If possible, take a walk in the evening and look at the stars together, discussing what you see.

We were so excited to embark on this twinkling adventure with your little ones that we embraced seeing their eyes light up as they explored the wonders of "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star."

💛 On Wednesday, Yellow Door was invited to an indoor field trip. The children experienced an interactive storytime presented by the Miami Children's Museum. The children did amazing work, and the expressions on their faces were priceless. 💛
