Dear Parents,

As we continue traveling around the World; this week we went to the fascinating country of Japan. The children learned that Japan is made up of four main Islands, (to my surprise they remembered that an Island is a piece of land surrounded by water) in the Pacific Ocean with dense cities, imperial palaces, mountains, national parks, and thousands of temples. Tokyo, is the Capital, and is the World's most populated City in the World. We practiced saying numbers 1-10 in Japanese. The Japanese language is very complex, there are 48 sounds but writing it is quite a task. We also talked about their favorite dish (sushi) and the utensils they use. If you ever visit Japan don't forget to ride the Shinkansen Train, known as the bullet train.

The children traced and cut a red circle, then glued it on white construction paper to make the Japanese flag. They also glued pink tissue paper to represent the cherry blossom tree. To continue working on their fine motor skills, the children glued colored squares on the word Japan. The children colored a fish using crayons, we then folded the paper and added a popsicle stick to make a fan. Finally, they glue colored papers in different shapes to make a Kimono.
