Dear Parents,

We started to feel festive this week as we were celebrating "Hanukkah".

During the week, the children discovered the tradition of Hanukkah through their art projects, songs, stories and music.

During small group, the children made handprints and fingerprints on construction paper to make a menorah. They decorated a dreidel using glue and blue tissue papers.

Our playground times are really great. The weather is perfect and we can see the children playing more together: crawling under the tunnel, climbing the stairs and going down the slide, riding a car together, having good laughs in the little house and playing peek a boo, chasing and popping the bubbles and holding hands to play "Ring Around The Rosie". This week, we also introduced them to the garden: we visited the garden. We told them the name of the plants and explained that the plants need water to grow. Using a little water can, they watered the plants one at a time.

Have a great weekend! Happy Hanukkah!
