Dear Parents of VPK:

What a great start to Summer Camp. We would like to Welcome you to the East wing. We spend time getting to know each other. Also, This week our students have been thinking about their fathers, grandfathers and special uncles.

During Art time, the children drew a picture of themselves and their parents or that special someone in their lives. They decorated the word "DAD" using stickers letters. They used their finger print to decorate a tie that was glue to a blue shirt. Finally, they used markers to color a heart that has a cute picture of them. We hope you enjoy all the projects they worked so hard on.

Next week, our students will begin their passport to fun. Our first adventure will be to Africa to learn about the beautiful country of Morocco. We will be traveling around the World on airplanes, cruise ships, trains and cars.

Books we read this week
