Dear Parents of Blue Door,

Hello! This week the children learned about Feelings and Emotions.

During circle time the teacher showed a feelings chart to the children and asked each child to go over to the chart and point to the feeling that shows how they are feeling. Also, the children were asked to show their friends their happy face, sad face, and mad face. They had a blast showing their friends these feelings. The teacher also made emotion craft sticks where she gave each child a craft stick that had a happy face, sad face, and mad face. The teacher asked the children what each emotion was and they were able to say what each emotion was and they showed their friends using the craft stick emotion how they were feeling.

For Art, the children colored a paper plate and then added a smile to it, They had lots of fun making happy faces, sad faces, and mad faces using Play-Doh. They practiced lacing beads and did great putting different themed puzzles together. They pretended to be monsters when they made monsters that showed how they were feeling. They drew on construction paper how they were feeling. On Fridays, as always, they worked in their journals and drew whatever emotion they wanted. They enjoyed playing with Legos and blocks as well.

Parents, please KEEP your child at home if they are sick. Wash your child's blanket and return to school clean. Please make sure your child's nails are cut short so that way they do not scratch themselves or any of their friends, Please make sure EVERYTHING that belongs to your child HAS HIS OR HER NAME ON IT.

Quote of the week:" A child can teach an adult three things: how to be happy for no reason, to always be busy with something, and to know how to demand with all his might that which he desires" Paulo Coelho

Have a nice weekend!
