A woman involved in a collision with a truck near Lindsey Street on Oct. 25 has died, according to authorities.

The 27-year-old victim, Destiny Guerrero, died the evening of Oct. 31 days after she was involved in a collision with a 2007 Toyota Tundra truck, said Sarah Jensen, Norman Police Department's public safety information officer.

Guerrero was a graduate assistant in the OU Department of English and a former opinion writer for The Daily.

Jensen said the NPD was notified of Guerrero's death Thursday morning.
